About the Journal

The Journal for Interdisciplinary Research in Education aims to enhance theory, research and practice in teaching and teacher education. The Journal will cover aspects related to teaching and learning in various disciplines, teacher education, impact of educational policies, educational equity and other concerns related to teaching and learning and classroom practice.

All involved in education are invited to submit articles that are research based and related to classroom practice. Exhaustive review papers on any aspect of teaching and learning and classroom practice will also be considered for publication.

Acknowledgements

The Editorial Board gratefully acknowledges the invaluable secretariat assistance provided by Cheryl Anne Marie Nicholson and the cover design provided by Angie Lim.
